This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

For several years the want of a new catalogue has been seriously felt. The last catalogue was published in 1846, with a supplement in 1848. At that time there were 7,200 volumes in the Library. There have been added since, 8,250 volumes, which have been accessible only through a manuscript catalogue, necessarily imperfect. The propriety of publishing a new catalogue has, therefore, been sufficiently obvious for a long time; but the unusual drafts upon the resources of the Association, have not rendered it advisable to do so till the present year. The one now published differs materially from former ones, but the plan of it seems best suited to the wants of the Library. By reference to the work itself, it will be found to contain a threefold arrangement, by authors, subjects, and titles, included in one alphabetical series, so that any book may be found by reference to either.

From the haste of preparation, and from the fact that a large portion of the titles have necessarily been taken from the manuscript catalogue, rather than directly from the books themselves, some errors have inevitably crept into the work. They will be readily excused, however, by such as have had experience in the hasty compilation of similar manuals.

Young Men's Mercantile Library Association, Cincinnati, June, 1855.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

The Young Men's Mercantile Library Association of Cincinnati was founded in the year 1835. At a meeting of the young men, held at the hall of the Independent Fire Engine and Hose Company, on Fourth St., April 18th, for the purpose of establishing a Library and Reading-Room, Mr. I. D. Wheeler was called to the chair, and Mr. W. R. Smith appointed Secretary. The following gentlemen were present:

L. Lardner, P. Outcalt, W. Parry, J. L. Brown, W. H. Harrison, Edward Dawson, Charles G. Springer, D. T. Piatt, J. H. Raymond, John W. Ellis, M. Murray, James Wiles, J. D. Thorpe, W. N. Green, J. R. Mavor, A. M. Bryson, G. W. Kimberly, J. C. Hill, I. D. Wheeler, J. A. Lewis, S. A. Spencer, John P. Tweed, A. M. Paxton, W. R. Smith, R. G. Mitchell, E. Lawrence, Palmer Holland, William Wells, Moses Ranney, G. M. Ayres, J. H. Merriwether, R. Brown, Wm. Watts, C. C. Sackett, D. G. Lockwood, Thos. Merriwether, John C. Macy, Alfred Wood, D. K. Este, Peter Brown, Henry Shaw, Geo. Hough, Leonard Avery, E. Parry, and E. Carter; in all forty-five.

The committee appointed for that purpose at a meeting of the 4th April, consisting of Messrs. I. D. Wheeler, W. N. Greene, and Moses Ranney, reported a constitution for the government of the association, which, with some amendments, was adopted.

The meeting then proceeded to the election of officers, to serve during the unexpired portion of the first official year, ending on the first Tuesday in January, 1836; which resulted as follows:

President,.....Moses Ranney.
Vice-Presidents,..... { Elbridge Lawrence. / Wm. N. Greene.
Treasurer, ...Chas. G. Springer.
Directors—S. A. Spencer, Robert Brown, R. G. Mitchell, I. D. Wheeler.

In July, the Board reported subscriptions amounting to about Eighteen Hundred Dollars, for the purchase of books, and for other purposes. A room for the temporary accommodation of the Society was procured in Ames' Building, Main St., below Pearl, at an annual rent of One Hundred and Fifty Dollars.

The means of the Association were not such as to warrant the employment of a Librarian and assistants, and their duties were performed by the Directors in person.

In the early autumn a more convenient and comfortable room was procured in the building on Fourth St., then occupied by Messrs. Ross and Geyer, as a cabinet warehouse.

This first year of the history of the Association was distinguished by a course of Lectures upon Commercial and Maritime Law, by J. L. Benham, Esq. The system of public lectures thus early introduced, has ever formed an important feature of the history of the Association. In the earlier years, independent courses were delivered by T. Walker, Esq., Dr. Samuel Robinson and Professor John Locke, and more recently by Professor Louis Agassiz and Rev. John Lord. In two or three instances, a series of lectures, highly successful and entertaining, were delivered by active members of the Association. Since 1844, every Board of Directors has provided a miscellaneous course, with lecturers chosen from among the ablest men of the country; and it is not too much to say, that these lectures for the last ten years have furnished the highest literary entertainment, to which the Cincinnati public has been invited.

In December, 1835, Mr. B. Doolittle was elected Librarian, and held the office somewhat less than a year. His successors and their periods of service may be seen by reference to page 17.

At the annual meeting in January, 1836, the same officers were re-elected for a second term.

Nothing note-worthy occurred in 1836, and from the meagre records it would appear that the Association made but feeble progress in any of the elements of strength and prosperity.

Pending a proposed amendment to the Charter, the following gentlemen were elected as Directors merely, at the annual meeting in 1837: John W. Ellis, P. Outcalt, Hiram P. Wells, Thomas C. Shipley, Charles C. Sackett, Wm. Watts, and Robert Brown.

The amendment to the Charter having been adopted, the Directors tendered their resignations, and at the meeting held July 11th, the following officers were chosen to serve during the unexpired portion of the year:

President,.....R. G. MITCHELL.
Vice-President,.....G. M. AYRES.
Secretary,.....WM. WATTS.
Treasurer,.....P. OUTCALT.
Directors—HENRY SHAW, P. HOLLAND, S. BRADSTREET.

The first Library Catalogue, compiled by Dr. Holly, was published, and numbered about twelve hundred volumes.

At the October quarterly meeting of that year, the following resolution, offered by Mr. G. M. Ayres, was adopted:

Resolved.—That the Board of Directors be, and they are hereby instructed to institute an annual celebration of the commencement and formation of this Association, at the beginning of next year, by appointing some suitable person to deliver an address, with such other ceremonies as they may deem advisable."

At the quarterly meeting held April 2d, 1839, the Board of Directors reported arrangements for the celebration of the fourth anniversary, to take place on the 4th of April, with R. G. Mitchell as orator of the day.

A difference of opinion here arose, and much feeling was manifested as to the day which should be celebrated as the anniversary. The Board of Directors had fixed upon the 4th of April, that being the date of the preliminary meeting at which the committee was appointed which drafted the Constitution. It was urged, in opposition to the Board, that the 18th was the proper day—the Constitution having been then reported, adopted, and signed. The latter idea prevailed. The vote on the acceptance of the report was re-considered, and the report recommitted, with instructions to change the date of the proposed celebration by making it the 18th. A warm discussion thereupon ensued, which resulted in the resignation of the entire Board. How the anniversaries were afterward celebrated, may be seen by reference to page 17.

At the annual meeting in January, 1840, the number of Directors was increased to five. In the spring of this year, the Association removed into rooms in the old Cincinnati College.

The year 1841 seems to have been an eventful one in comparison with its predecessors. The Annual Report was, for the first time, published. A new catalogue, prepared by Mr. James Wildy, was published at an expense of $130.00, showing about 2300 volumes in the Library. The office of Corresponding Secretary was created. Honorary membership in the Association was tendered to the resident clergy of the city. Unsuccessful efforts were made to establish a Gallery of Fine Arts and Cabinet of Natural History. The system of classes, upon the plan of the Mercantile Libraries of New York and Boston, was also introduced, but failed of success. The number of books added was unusually large, being 1076, and the circulation reached fifteen thousand.

It was during the year 1843 that the Merchants' Exchange was established, and the nucleus formed of what has since become a powerful organization under that name. This department was placed in the special charge of Mr. Lewis J. Cist, who, in addition to his duties as Assistant Librarian, opened and kept the first set of Exchange Books, in which were recorded the statistics of the trade and commerce of the city.

The connection of the Mercantile Library with this enterprise was briefly as follows: In 1839 the proposition was made for the establishment of a Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce, but no success attended the effort until 1843, when it was revived by a number of the leading merchants of the city, and at their urgent solicitation, the experiment of its establishment, and the entire responsibility of its management, were undertaken by the Board of Directors of this Institution. Active exertions were at once made, subscription papers circulated, the necessary preliminaries settled, and an Exchange opened in the large Library Room, at the old College, on the 1st of May, 1844. The only guarantee required was, that the Exchange department should be self-sustaining.

Owing to a failure of concerted action, or to the presumed fact that the business men of the city did not then feel the necessity of its adoption, one leading object—the establishment of 'Change Hours—was not at that time attained. The collection of commercial statistics, was deemed second only in importance to the establishment of Hours of 'Change. Careful registers were kept of the imports and exports to and from the city, by river, canal, and railroad; of arrival and departure of steamboats; of the markets for demand and supply; of arrivals at the principal hotels, etc.; all of which was made constantly accessible to the examination of subscribers, and furnished in abstracts from the Exchange books to each of the daily papers. The object aimed at solely was to form a nucleus about which, in good time, should be formed a permanent Merchants' Exchange. And the hopes and efforts of the successive Boards, which guarded and advanced its interests, were not disappointed. It remained under their charge, prospering beyond their highest expectations, until September, 1846, when its management was yielded to the Chamber of Commerce. In partial return for the liberality of our merchants toward the Association, the Board leased the north room of our suite, in the College edifice, to the Chamber of Commerce, for the term of five years, at the nominal rent of one dollar per annum.

The Young Men's Mercantile Library Association have now the satisfaction of seeing the Merchants' Exchange in a highly prosperous condition, contributing alike to the character and business facilities of the city.

On Sunday morning, January 19, 1845, the venerated and time-honored Cincinnati College was destroyed by conflagration. The Association, driven from its home by this unlooked-for occurrence, found a temporary resting-place in rooms near the corner of Fourth and Sycamore streets.

The event, which was deplored at the time as a heavy calamity, resulted most fortunately for the best interests of the Institution; as it led to the adoption of measures by which it received an impulse that still continues to lead it upward and onward.

Three several propositions were submitted by the Trustees of Cincinnati College, having in view the re-building of the College Edifice. One of these, securing to the Association the ownership in perpetuity of a suite of rooms in the new building, with other important privileges, in consideration of the sum of ten thousand dollars to be paid during the progress of the work, was finally accepted. An appeal was made to the merchants of the city, and promptly answered by a subscription of $10.000 for the purchase, and the further sum of $1600 for the furnishing of the Rooms now occupied by the Association.

The superintendence of this work, in addition to other official duties, devolved extraordinary labors on the new Board; but the result proved them to be men fully equal to the emergency. During the year, three instalments, of twenty-five hundred dollars each, were collected by subscription and paid over to the Trustees, in conformity with the stipulations of the contract.

The annual meeting in January, 1846, resulted in the re-election of the same efficient Board.

The month of September following witnessed the completion of an undertaking in which so many hopes were centred, and the Association was placed in the proud possession of a home of its own—free from debt or the shadow of incumbrance. A new era had now dawned upon its prospects, betokening the bright day of prosperity that has since followed.

In 1846, the Third Catalogue was published under the direction of Mr. Chas. E. Cist, Librarian, at an expense of $257.00. It contains the titles of 4700 volumes.

In 1847, it was decided that literary exercises should be united with the other exercises at the meetings of the Association, which resulted in the reading of very entertaining essays by active members at each of the quarterly meetings of that year. The meetings were well attended, and the attempt was successful. These exercises were continued with increasing interest through several years. In this year subscriptions were first made to Foreign Newspapers, among which were the London Times, Journal des Débats, and the Allgemeine Zeitung—all Daily.

In 1848 a Supplementary Catalogue was prepared under the direction of Mr. Cist, representing, with the catalogues already published, 7200 volumes. The number of books added in 1848 was unexampled, being 2089 volumes, of which about 500 were donated. An item of special interest in this year's conduct of affairs was the formation of a special book fund which reached $970—an example well worthy of imitation. The addition of books for 1849 also was very large, comprising a very valuable importation of standard English works and amounting in all to more than 1600 volumes. In this year the Association suffered an irreparable loss in the death of one of its most constant friends, the Rev. James H. Perkins. In the Eighteenth Annual Report is to be found the following record:

"Resolved.—That this Board have learned with profound regret the death of Rev. James H. Perkins, late a life-member, and from its organization, a warm friend as well as pre-eminently a very liberal benefactor of this Association.

"That, while few words best befit the solemnity of the occasion, the deep and all-pervading sorrow of this community, the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association feel a right and privilege to bear public testimony to the worth, exalted talents, and earnest philanthropy—to the dignity and beauty of life and character of the deceased: his counsels and benefactions were ever lavished upon this Institution, and his memory will be cherished among us, as, in a peculiar manner, the friend of Young Men—in its largest and truest sense, the friend of all mankind."

At the expiration of their lease, Sept. 1, 1851, the Merchants' Exchange was removed from the large north room, belonging to the Association, to College Hall. Soon after the room was vacated, the Board obtained plans from several architects for remodelling the whole suite of rooms belonging to the Association. After much deliberation, they adopted plans prepared by Wm. H. Bayless, Esq., architect. To meet the extraordinary expenses which these improvements would require, the industry and energy of the Board of Directors were severely tasked, but they proved themselves equal to the undertaking. A proposition was made in October to amend the sixth article of the Constitution. Due notice thereof was given through the public prints, and at the stated meeting held on the 29th November, the amendment proposed was unanimously adopted. The article as amended reads:

Article 6. "Any person may become a member for life by paying the sum of fifty dollars."

The original article disfranchised Life Members, otherwise entitled to the privileges of active membership. This was so manifestly unjust that the usage had been established to allow such votes to pass unchallenged. It is well known that Life Members have held high office, and their eligibility has been unquestioned, even in the midst of an exciting canvass, although in direct violation of the letter of the Constitution.

An active canvass for Life Members was immediately entered into, and with entire success. A sufficient number of new members was obtained to cover the estimated cost of remodelling and furnishing the new rooms. The work was pushed forward as rapidly as consistent, and early in 1853 was completed. The books were removed into the Library, and the Association took possession of the rooms which it now occupies—the pride and ornament of the city. The outlay for these improvements amounted to something more than $9,000.

The proud position in which the Board of Direction for 1853, left the Association, may be seen from the following statement taken from the Eighteenth Annual Report.

The Young Men's Mercantile Library Association, through cash investments when the building was erected, is the owner of the entire front second floor of the Cincinnati College Edifice; (lease, free of rent, in perpetuity); style of the edifice, Grecian; dimensions, front 140 feet; depth 100; height, four stories, 58 feet; its construction solid and permanent; the front of Dayton stone.

Rooms of the Association—dimensions: Library room 45 by 60 feet; Reading-room as finished by removal of partition wall, same measurement, 45 by 60; connecting Corridor, 14 by 18 feet; height throughout to ceiling, 17 feet.

The new Library room is shelved for some 20,000 volumes, covering the entire wall-surface; a light iron gallery or balustrade, and half-circular iron stairway giving access to the upper range of shelving. The books are arranged in cases, protected by light wire screen-work; a convenient and admirable arrangement, bringing every book in the Library directly within view of the members; these cases, by the bringing out of an ornamental iron-pilaster, can at any future time be thrown into alcove-form, thus increasing almost indefinitely the library accommodations. The floor of the Library and connecting Corridor have been laid in the very best manner with mosaic marble tile, a surface measurement of something more than 2,800 square feet.

The Corridor accommodates the office and desks of the Librarian and Superintendent, commanding a full view of the entire apartments.

In the new Reading-room, the wall-surface of one end of the apartment is neatly shelved for files of bound newspapers, with capacity of accommodating some 1,500 bound volumes of the largest size. A new and very splendid set of reading-desks have been constructed after original designs of the Architect—light and ornamental iron frame-work, with mahogany tops and silver mountings; these elegant and substantial desks will accommodate some 120 files of newspapers, and are ranged with passage-ways, around the four sides of the room, forming a hollow square, which is appropriated to centre-tables for magazines and periodicals.

A striking feature of the conduct of the affairs of the Association for 1853, and especially suggestive of the forethought of Mr.

James Lupton, the President, was the contribution to the Washington Monument of a block of native marble, taken from the bed of the Ohio river, opposite Cincinnati, bearing the following inscription:

THE YOUNG MEN'S MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION OF CINCINNATI,
ORGANIZED A. D., 1835; A. D., 1853, 2,400 MEMBERS,
PROUD TO HONOR WASHINGTON,
CONTRIBUTES ITS HUMBLE QUOTA
TO THE SWELLING TIDE OF NATIONAL GRATITUDE.

OHIO.—FIRST-BORN OF THE ORDINANCE OF '87,
EVERY PULSATION OF HER HEART BEATS HIGH, BEATS STRONG FOR LIBERTY, AND FOR THE UNION.

The sum of $400.00 also, raised by voluntary subscription among the members, was contributed to the building fund of the Washington National Monument Society.

In 1854, the experiment of establishing classes, which had been tried more than once before and failed, was again attempted, and with marked success.

Arrangements were made for the temporary use of the room occupied by the Ohio Historical and Philosophical Society, in College Building; the following classes were formed on the evening of October 2d:

French Language, under charge of Prof. A. Brunner.
German Language, " " " S. Veith.
Mathematics, " " " C. E. Matthews.

At the same time a class was formed for the study of Book-Keeping, under the charge of Prof. R. M. Bartlett, at his rooms, in Masonic Hall; and a class in Penmanship, under the charge of Prof. W. Thompson, at his rooms, on the corner of Eighth and Walnut.

It would seem superfluous to dwell on the great benefits which this system of instruction will confer on those of our younger members whose early educational advantages have been limited, but who are yet anxious to devote the few hours stolen from an exacting vocation to such mental culture as will fit and prepare them to "act well their part" in the great drama of life.

The last Annual Report for the year ending December, 1854, represented the Association in the full tide of prosperity. The Library contained, at that date, 14,841 volumes, among which are included 500 volumes of bound newspapers, and the circulation for the year reached 24,000.

The number of members was 2,500. The Reading-Room was supplied with 143 newspapers: 54 daily, 9 tri-weekly, 76 weekly, and two monthly, of which 128 were American and fifteen foreign. The magazine and periodical list embraced three weekly, one semi-monthly, forty-one monthly, one bi-monthly, and seventeen quarterly; in all sixty-three, of which seventeen were foreign, and forty-six American. The new Catalogue, now just published, June, 1855, has increased the number of books to 15,450.

Thus twenty years have passed since the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association was organized. Since then various have been the changes, and great the progress made. Of the little band which met on the 18th of April, 1835, few remain among us.

Messrs. W. R. Smith, E. Lawrence, Palmer Holland, Moses Ranney, J. H. Merriwether, Thos. Merriwether, Henry Shaw, and Chas. G. Springer—in all, eight—are known to have passed from the stage of action.

Messrs. R. G. Mitchell, W. Parry, W. N. Greene, J. R. Mavor, C. C. Sackett, Geo. Hough, and E. Parry, are believed to be still living, but have removed from the city. The remainder are still with us, and, with a few exceptions, have continued members and steadfast friends to this day. Six of the original number, viz: Messrs. Moses Ranney, R. G. Mitchell, I. D. Wheeler, Chas. C. Sackett, Wm. Watts, and Jno. W. Ellis, have been successively honored by promotion to the executive head of the Society, while others have served it acceptably in the several subordinate offices.

Thus far the Association has never wanted friends. Whatever the emergency, it has never appealed in vain to the liberality of our citizens. The monument of their munificence is before them, and sufficiently commends itself. The past of its history is prophetic—and for the credit of the mercantile profession and the honor of our city, may the prophecy be fulfilled.

CONSTITUTION.

We, the subscribers, young men of the City of Cincinnati, being desirous of adopting efficient means to extend our information upon mercantile and other subjects of general utility, have associated ourselves for the purpose of establishing a Library and Reading-Room, and for our government, have adopted the following Constitution:

ARTICLE I.

The name and style of this Association shall be "The Young Men's Mercantile Library Association of the City of Cincinnati."

ARTICLE II.

Sec. 1. The Officers of this Association, shall be a President, Vice President, Corresponding Secretary, Recording Secretary, Treasurer, and five Directors, who, together, shall constitute a Board of Directors, and shall be elected annually. The President, Vice President, Secretaries and Treasurer by separate ballot; the Directors by general ticket: a majority of the whole votes given, being necessary to a choice.

Sec. 2. The President shall preside at the meetings of the Association; call such extra meetings as the Board of Directors shall deem expedient; shall have a vote in all elections, and give the casting vote when there shall be an equal division among the members.

Sec. 3. The Vice President shall preside in the absence of the President, and, in general, perform the duties of that office.

Sec. 4. The Recording Secretary shall keep an accurate record of the business of the Association. The Corresponding Secretary, under the superintendence of the Board of Directors, shall conduct its correspondence.

Sec. 5. The Treasurer shall receive all dues and donations in money; pay all drafts on him, when signed by the Recording Secretary, and countersigned by the President; keep a regular account of the financial concerns of the Association—an abstract of which, accompanied by satisfactory vouchers, he shall exhibit at each annual meeting, and at the monthly meetings of the Board of Directors, and oftener, if required; and for the faithful discharge of these trusts, he shall give security in the sum of five hundred dollars.

Sec. 6. The Board of Directors shall have power to appropriate funds, enact By-Laws, and generally conduct the affairs of the Association; shall meet at least once in each month, for the transaction of business; shall report at each quarterly meeting of the Association, their proceedings for the past quarter, and the state of the concerns of the Association; and in case any vacancy shall occur in their Board, shall immediately notify the Association, and appoint an evening for an election to fill such vacancy.

Sec. 7. The Board of Directors shall appoint a Librarian, whose duty it shall be to attend at the Library on each day of the week, (Sundays excepted,)—who shall keep a register of all books, magazines, maps, charts, papers, and all other property in his care, belonging to the Association—arrange them in proper order, make a record thereof, with the names of the donors, and keep an accurate account of all books delivered to the members; and to be otherwise governed by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE III.

Each member, on subscribing to this Constitution, shall pay an initiation fee of one dollar, and the sum of three dollars annually, in advance, so long as he shall continue a member.

ARTICLE IV.

Any young man engaged in mercantile pursuits, if approved of by a majority of the Directors, may become a member, on complying with the provisions of this Constitution.

ARTICLE V.

Any person not eligible to regular membership in this Association, may become entitled to the privileges of an Honorary Member, on being approved of by a majority of the Board of Directors, subscribing to the Constitution, paying the initiation fee of one dollar, and the further sum of three dollars per year, in advance, so long as he shall continue a member, but shall not be entitled to vote, or act in any official capacity.

ARTICLE VI.

Any person may become a member for life, by paying the sum of fifty dollars.

ARTICLE VII.

There shall be an annual meeting of the Association on the first Tuesday in January, for the election of officers for the ensuing year; for receiving reports from the Board of Directors, and quarterly thereafter, for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

ARTICLE VIII.

If the President, Vice President, Secretaries, Treasurer, or Directors, in their several official capacities, shall neglect the performance of their duties, or shall not administer the laws of the Association efficiently or equitably, on written complaint of fifteen members, a meeting shall be called, and a committee appointed, consisting of two members and one Director, who shall censure, remove from office, or fully exonerate the accused, as the circumstances of the case may warrant.

ARTICLE IX.

One month previous to each annual meeting, the Board of Directors shall call a meeting of the Association, for the purpose of appointing a committee of seven members, by ballot, to nominate suitable officers for the coming year; such nomination to be published in the daily papers at least six times previous to such meeting.

ARTICLE X.

There shall be no alteration in this Constitution, unless the same shall have been proposed to the Board of Directors one month previous to a quarterly meeting, and then approved of by three-fourths of the members present.

BY-LAWS.

SECTION 1. The Library and Reading-Room shall be open every day, from 9 o'clock, A. M., until 10 o'clock, P. M., Sundays, the Fourth of July, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas, and New-Year, excepted.

SECTION 7. He shall have the supervision and general superintendence of the Library and Reading-Room; shall carefully examine returned books and replace them on the Library shelves; shall see that newspapers are promptly filed, and that magazines, etc., are regularly placed on the Reading-Room tables, and shall at all times enforce the rules relative to the circulation of books, and maintain quiet and good order in the Association. He shall likewise perform such other duties, appertaining to his office, as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Directors.

SECTION 8. It shall be additionally the duty of the Librarian, under the immediate supervision of the Treasurer, to keep the record book of subscription and annual dues of members; to render bills of the same, and generally to take charge of such other books and accounts as may from time to time be assigned him.

SECTION 9. The Assistant Librarian shall give security in the sum of three hundred dollars, for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office, and will hold the same at the pleasure of the Board of Directors.

SECTION 10. It shall be the duty of the Assistant Librarian to co-operate with and relieve the Librarian; to be governed in every particular by the like rules, assuming, in the absence of that officer, the general duties of the post.

SECTION 11. It shall be the duty of the Assistant Librarian, under the immediate supervision of the Treasurer, to collect the subscriptions and annual dues of members, together with such other collections as may be specially assigned him. He shall likewise perform such other duties appertaining to his office, as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Directors.

SECTION 12. It shall be the duty of one or more Assistants, under the immediate supervision of the Librarian, who, as Superintendent, will apportion their respective duties, to attend especially on the receiving and giving out of books, carefully observing the Library regulations for the same; to give special attention to the filing of newspapers, the proper distribution of magazines, etc.; to act as Messengers when required in that capacity; to keep or assist in keeping the Rooms of the Association clean, well ventilated, and in good order, taking special care that the furniture, maps, globes, pictures, statuary, etc., be neither defaced nor injured; and, generally, that the Library and Reading-Room be made agreeable and attractive for the convenience and resort of members.

SECTION 13. Each member of the Association, duly entitled to the use of the Library, may withdraw a book, or set of books, and retain the same two weeks from the day of delivery. New books, catalogued within the current year, shall not be renewed, but must, at the expiration of two weeks, be returned to the Library; other books of circulation may, on application to the Librarian, be renewed for the like term of two weeks; Provided, that not more than two separate renewals of the same book, or set of books, be allowed, without special permission of the Board of Directors. No book, or set of books, shall, in any case, be reserved by the Librarian for either a Member or Director.

SECTION 14. Any member who shall retain a book, or set of books, longer than two weeks, as above limited, shall forfeit and pay to the Librarian, for the use of the Association, two cents for each day over time a book, or set of books, shall have been so detained in his possession.

SECTION 15. If any member lose, deface or injure a book, or set of books, he shall make the same good to the Librarian; and if any book lost, defaced or injured, be one of a set, he shall either replace the set or pay the full value of the same to the Treasurer, and may, thereupon, receive the remaining volumes as his property.

SECTION 16. Each member shall be privileged to use any book belonging to the Library, in the Reading-Room of the Association, (of which use the Librarian shall, at the time, keep a minute,) yet such book, if it be one of circulation, must be relinquished to any member withdrawing the same from the Library.

SECTION 17. Such books, maps, charts, etc., as have been or may, from time to time, be donated, with the intention or request that they be not taken from the Library, shall, on no case, be loaned therefrom. Books which are specially valuable for their plates, for rarity or antiquity, or for other reasons, may, from time to time, be designated as books of reference, and as such be restricted from circulation, but can, at all times, be freely consulted at the Library or in the Reading-Room. Books so restricted, shall be taken from the Library only by special permission of the Board of Directors.

SECTION 18. Resignation of membership must be made in writing, either to the Treasurer or to the Board of Directors, and can be accepted only after the payment of all dues, forfeitures and arrearages; any member wishing to withdraw from the Association, must comply with these requirements, or he will be considered and charged as continuing his membership.

SECTION 19. The privileges of the Association will be withdrawn from any member who shall refuse to pay fines and forfeitures incurred, or who shall be known wilfully to violate any of the preceding regulations. The Board of Directors will, from time to time, alter, amend, or establish, such By-Laws as may be necessary and proper for the safety of the Library and the due administration of the affairs of the Association.
